In the event of a COVID-19 resurgence during the course that necessitates the course moving away from in-person delivery, course content may be delivered online either synchronously (i.e., at the times indicated in the timetable) or asynchronously (e.g., posted on OWL for students to view at their convenience). There may also be changes to any remaining assessments at the discretion of the course instructor. In the event of a COVID-19 resurgence, detailed information about the impact on this course will be communicated by the Office of the Provost and by the course instructor.

Course Description

Enter the course description as it appears in the Academic Calendar, including pre- and anti-requisites.

Go to <http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/Courses.cfm> to open the Calendar, then enter the course number in the search field to find your course.

Required Course Materials

Provide specific information about required readings, including title, author(s), edition number and availability (from where they can be purchased or borrowed). It is helpful to the students to indicate how each reading relates to a particular topic in the course.

Optional Course Materials

If optional materials (e.g., recommended readings) exist, list them here.

Learning Outcomes

Learning outcomes are clear statements of the knowledge, competencies or skills you expect students to have acquired by the end of the course (e.g., "By the end of this course students should be able to synthesize information from..." or "solve problems using ..."). Learning outcomes provide more detailed information about the course goals or objectives. Learning outcomes help to organize and structure students' learning and improve their ability to know how course activities and tasks contribute to that learning.

Brescia Competencies

The Competencies are Brescia's institution-level learning outcomes. Identify how course content, activities, and assignments assist students in developing the Competencies, and to what Level (1 to 4). The Brescia Competencies Handbook is available as a resource with this exercise. You are not required to use this document's language verbatim; rather, you are encouraged to interpret and articulate the Competencies from your disciplinary perspective.

Teaching Methodology and Expectations of Students

Provide a brief description of instructional approaches that will be used during the course (e.g., lectures, seminars, laboratory or clinical activities, group projects).

You may also choose to include additional information relevant to this course, such as attendance requirements, expectations for OWL use, and classroom etiquette (e.g., use of electronic devices).

Copyright and Intellectual Property

PowerPoint lecture slides and notes, lists of readings, in-class activities, assignment guidelines, and other components of the course materials are typically the intellectual property of the instructor. Unauthorized reproduction through audio-recording, video-recording, photographing, sharing on social media, or posting on course-sharing websites is an infringement of copyright and is prohibited. Such action may be considered a Code of Conduct violation and lead to sanctions.

Evaluation

A description of the means of evaluation to be used in the course: The purpose of evaluation is to provide feedback to students on their learning, as well as to permit the instructor to assign a fair grade at the end of the course. Providing explicit information about assignments and grading procedures will clarify expectations and allay student anxiety, while supporting students in pacing their studies, gauging their progress, and achieving learning outcomes.

Academic Accommodation

For course components worth 10% or more of the total course grade, please see the Academic Policies and Regulations section at the end of this course outline or consult the Academic Calendar.

Instructors must indicate whether documentation will be required for course components worth less than 10% of the course grade. If documentation is required, such documentation must be submitted by the student directly to their academic advisor, not to the course instructor.

If you will require documentation:

For course components worth less than 10% of the total course grade, documentation will be required. Medical or other supporting documentation should be submitted to your Academic Advisor.

If you will not require documentation:

For course components worth less than 10% of the total course grade, documentation is not required. Whenever possible students should provide notification in advance of due dates or absence. If advance notification is not possible, the course instructor should be contacted within two business days.

Course Content

- A description of the topics to be addressed in the course
- A concept map or graphic representation of the content of the course is helpful for students
- The rationale for the sequence of the course, especially if there is not an assigned text in chapter sequence (e.g., an historical approach with topics arranged chronologically, a progression from simple to more complex procedures or concepts, or a series of theoretical principles followed by applications)
- If appropriate, explain what the course is not about or what topics/chapters will not be covered.
- If appropriate, rather than assigning specific dates, you may note that topics will be covered in the order listed and dates listed (if you list any) are meant as a guideline.
