COURSE DESCRIPTION

This interdisciplinary course will provide students with an introduction to the concept and history of Leadership. Students will examine a variety of philosophical, psychological and theoretical perspectives of leadership through readings, hands-on activities and experiential simulations.

This introductory survey course assumes no prior knowledge of leadership. This course requires no prerequisites and has no antirequisites, but is a prerequisite for Brescia University College's Major in Leadership Studies.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES (COMPETENCIES IN BRACKETS)

By the end of the course, students should be able to;

- L1. Describe, compare and critically evaluate a variety of Leadership theories and perspectives that have evolved over time (L1 Communication, L1 Critical Thinking)
- L2. Examine situations to identify which Leadership theories/skills/perspectives have been demonstrated and evaluate the effectiveness of that Leadership (L1 Inquiry and Analysis, L1 Problem Solving)
- L3. Develop an understanding of past and present issues in Leadership (L1 Inquiry/analysis, L1 social awareness/engagement)
- L4. Apply the aforementioned knowledge to evaluate their own skill sets, strengths and weaknesses through experiential exercises, self-reflection and assessment (L1 self-awareness/development, L1 valuing)
- L5. Identify and demonstrate their ability to both lead and follow (L1 self-awareness & development, L1 social awareness/engagement, L1 communication)

See <http://brescia.uwo.ca/academics/brescia-competencies/> for a detailed description of each competency.

EVALUATION

Grades cannot be adjusted on the basis of need. Your mark in the course will be the mark that you earn based on your demonstrated understanding of the course content. Extra credit assignments are not available and tests and exams cannot be rewritten to obtain a higher mark. Once a student has written a test or examination she is committed to the mark earned.

Evaluation of the student is achieved through two mid-term tests, a group project/presentation, a final examination, and class contribution. The weightings of the graded requirements are listed below:

Segment	Date	Objective	Weight
Midterm Test #1	Monday, November 5 , 2018	L1-L2	25%
Midterm Test #2	Monday, February 11 , 2019	L1-L2	25%
Group Project Presentations:	Monday, March 25 & April 1 , 2019	L1-L5	10%
Final Exam	Final Exam Period	L1-L5	30%
Class Contribution	Evaluated weekly	L1-L5	10%
TOTAL			100%

Evaluation Component Descriptions

Class Contribution

Class contribution assesses your oral communication, critical thinking, complex problem solving, and inquiry and analysis skills. Class contribution may also be used to determine whether you have mastered the content of the course and to assess your professionalism, including preparation, civility, ethical perspective, and promptness.

While class participation or contribution is not primarily an assessment of attendance, if you are not in class, it is not possible to assess your contribution. Each class will count equally toward your contribution grade, with each missed class receiving a grade of "0" out of 13. Ten marks of your contribution grade will relate to critical thinking, inquiry and analysis, and problem solving, 2 marks to preparation, and 1 mark to professionalism. If you miss more than 25% of scheduled classes without an academic accommodation you will receive a class contribution grade of "0" for the semester.

You should attend every class in this course. However, extenuating circumstances arise that make this difficult. Family medical issues, personal medical issues, family bereavement, participation in University sports teams are acceptable reasons for missing class, with appropriate documentation (i.e. an academic accommodation).

Midterm Test #1: The midterm exam will occur during class time and will cover material covered in the assigned readings, in class discussions and PowerPoint slides from the start of the year.

Midterm Test #2: The second midterm test will occur during class time and will cover material covered in the assigned readings, in class discussions and PowerPoint slides since the first midterm exam.

Group Project Presentation: In self-selected groups of 4 (it is each student's responsibility to get into a group), students are being challenged to both apply leadership theories and develop their own leadership skills by actually leading an activity/event of their own choosing. The group is to decide what activity/event they plan to conduct, and must complete their activity no later than Saturday, March 23, 2019. Examples of activities or events that groups might conduct include forming and executing an awareness campaign for Brescia students, hosting an activity for members of the community, creating a volunteer or fundraising activity, etc. This event can be as big or as small as your group would like (and can afford): it just has to happen!

The group presentation is to be no more than 20 minutes long, and is to contain the following:

- A brief summary of the group's event/activity and an evaluation of the successfulness of their effort. This summary is to be no more than 4 minutes long.
- Each group member will then have four minutes to identify and explain to the class two instances where you lead. For each leadership instance, describe how this was a leadership role by linking it back to any leadership theory discussed in this course. Be sure to demonstrate the applicability of the theory by speaking about specific components/elements of the theory and applying those elements to your experience. You must use different leadership theories for each leadership instance. Describe what you learnt about your own leadership through this activity/event.

- The presentation will conclude with a brief question-and-answer period where the instructor and class may ask questions.

Group Presentation Evaluation: This group presentation will be worth 10% of your final grade, and will be graded as follows:

- 2% of the grade will come from the group's presentation itself: were you interesting, inspiring and/or motivating? Did you keep our attention?
- 8% of the grade will come from each member's (2% each) leader contribution and learning discussion: as a result, it is critical that each group member be given the opportunity to contribute to the execution of this event/activity! You must work together to share leadership of this event!
- For each group member, 1% of their 2% will come from leadership "instance 1 & theoretical link". Another 1% of their 2% will come from leadership "instance 2 & theoretical link".
- For each member who does not discuss "what you learned about your own leadership," a .5% deduction will be applied.

Final Exam: The final exam will be scheduled during the final exam period, and will be cumulative: it will cover material covered in the textbook, the additional readings, in class discussions and PowerPoint slides throughout the entire year.

TEACHING METHODOLOGY AND EXPECTATIONS OF STUDENTS

This course will be taught primarily through in-class discussions, which requires a much greater involvement of the student in class than does the traditional lecture method. Students will read the assigned readings and complete the assigned exercises in preparation for the class discussion. In the classroom, the instructor will act as discussion leader, with emphasis on students' active participation. The very nature of this discussion approach demands a high level of attendance, preparation and contribution in class.

Students are expected to be fully engaged in the entire learning process. This means devoting time and energy to preparation before class, listening to others during class discussions and engaging in class discussions and activities. Collective reasoning and willingness for self-discovery are critical to the successful application of this learning process.

Detailed note-taking during class can often be distracting for others and counterproductive to your own learning. Instead, bring copies of the day's PowerPoint slides with you (slides will be posted in advance on OWL so that you can make your own, preferably brief, additions to the notes).

COURSE POLICIES

Attendance

Attendance at all classes in this course is expected; however, circumstances may arise which make it impossible for you to attend. For example, if you are unable to attend a class due to health-related or other compelling reasons, you are expected to advise your instructor, in advance when possible (e-mail communication is perfectly acceptable). In addition, academic accommodation may be warranted, but it is the STUDENT'S responsibility to contact their academic advisor immediately (if immediacy is not possible, students must contact the advisor WITHIN ONE WEEK of any absence) to seek academic accommodation. Under University regulations, your instructor can determine at which point absenteeism has become excessive and prevent you from writing the final exam, thus preventing you from passing the course. At the discretion of your instructor, any student who misses more than 25% of the scheduled classes will receive a participation grade of 0 out of 10 for the course.

NOTE: It is the STUDENT'S responsibility to catch up on missed class material by getting notes/information from students who were present. Once a student has tried to catch up on their own, any remaining questions/concerns will happily be addressed by your Instructor.

Academic Accommodation

If, on medical or compassionate grounds, a student is unable to complete a course component worth greater than 10 per cent of the final course grade, it is the responsibility of the student to consult with an Academic Advisor and follow the procedures documented in the "POLICY REGARDING MAKEUP EXAMS AND EXTENSIONS OF DEADLINES" on page X of this outline.

For academic accommodation to be considered for any course component worth less than 10 per cent of the final course grade, it is the responsibility of the student to approach the course instructor in a timely fashion (within two business days of the missed deadline). Documentation may be required to be submitted to the academic advisor. If documentation is required, the request for accommodation will be decided by the academic advisor in consultation with the instructor. If documentation is not required, the instructor will make the final decision.

Student Use of Technology in Class

Students may use laptops in the classroom if they are used for class related purposes, such as research, participation in class exercises. Using your computer or phone during class for personal activities such as reading or writing e-mail, surfing the web, or playing games is distracting for others, is not conducive to your own learning, and is disrespectful to the instructor. Please ensure your phones are turned off and placed inside a bag.

Recent research shows that grades decline when you use laptops in the classroom for non-educational tasks. Additionally, students find other students use of laptops in the classroom the number one source of interference with their ability to learn (Fried, 2008). So, if you are using a laptop for non-class related activities, you will be asked to close the laptop for the remainder of the class or until a class exercise requires the use of the laptop.

Texting substantially reduces academic performance. Researchers asked half the students in an accounting class to text their professor three times, while the other half were requested to refrain from texting. Students were then tested at the end of the lecture on the contents of the lecture. The students who texted scored 16% points lower than those who did not text (Ellis, Daniels & Jauregui, 2010). As a result, if you are found texting, you will be asked to put your phone away.

Privacy

In order to respect privacy laws, and the privacy of individual students, student grades will ONLY be communicated via OWL, in-person, or on a test/exam/report/essay paper. Your instructor is not able to email your grade to any email address, and will only discuss individual grades with the student in question in person.

Student grades are confidential. Please take this into consideration when sharing your grades or asking others to share their grades.

The University is committed to protecting specific types of information, which, if disclosed, could reasonably be expected to result in harm to the University, an identifiable individual, or a third party. As a result, your professor is not able to release any information including, but not limited to, personal information, attendance or grade records, to anyone other than the individual involved.

2018-19 BRESCIA UNIVERSITY COLLEGE ACADEMIC POLICIES AND REGULATIONS

1. POLICY REGARDING MAKEUP EXAMS AND EXTENSIONS OF DEADLINES

When a student requests academic accommodation (e.g., extension of a deadline, a makeup exam) for work representing 10% or more of the student's overall grade in the course, it is the responsibility of the student to provide acceptable documentation to support a medical or compassionate claim. All such requests for academic accommodation must be made through an Academic Advisor and include supporting documentation.

Academic accommodation for illness will be granted only if the documentation indicates that the onset, duration and severity of the illness are such that the student could not reasonably be expected to complete her academic responsibilities. Minor ailments typically treated by over-the-counter medications will not normally be accommodated.

Students must submit their documentation along with a request for relief specifying the nature of the accommodation being requested no later than two business days after the date specified for resuming responsibilities. In cases where there might be an extended absence or serious issue, students should submit their documentation promptly and consult their Academic Advisor for advice during their recovery period. Whenever possible, students who require academic accommodation should provide notification and documentation in advance of due dates, examinations, etc. Appropriate academic accommodation will be determined by the Dean's Office/Academic Advisor in consultation with the student's instructor(s). Academic accommodation may include extension of deadlines, waiver of attendance requirements for classes/labs/tutorials, arranging Special Exams or Incompletes, re-weighting course requirements, or granting late withdrawals without academic penalty

Please note that personal commitments (e.g., vacation flight bookings, work schedule) which conflict with a scheduled test, exam or course requirement are not grounds for academic accommodation.

A UWO Student Medical Certificate (SMC) is required if a student is seeking academic accommodation on medical grounds. This documentation should be obtained at the time of the initial consultation with the physician/nurse practitioner or walk-in clinic. A SMC can be downloaded from: http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/medicalform.pdf . The student must request documentation sufficient to demonstrate that her ability to meet academic responsibilities was seriously affected. Please note that under University Senate regulations documentation stating simply that the student "was seen for a medical reason" or "was ill" is not adequate to support a request for academic accommodation.

The full policy on requesting accommodation due to illness can be viewed at: http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/PolicyPages.cfm?Command=showCategory&PolicyCategoryID=1&SelectedCalendar=Live&ArchiveID=#Page_12

2. ACADEMIC CONCERNS

If you feel that you have a medical or personal challenge that is interfering with your work, contact your instructor and Academic Advisor as soon as possible. Problems may then be documented and possible arrangements to assist you can be discussed at the time of occurrence rather than on a retroactive basis. Retroactive requests for academic accommodation on medical or compassionate grounds are not normally considered.

If you think that you are too far behind to catch up or that your work load is not manageable, you should consult your Academic Advisor. If you consider reducing your workload by dropping one or more courses, this must be done by the appropriate deadlines (refer to the Registrar's website, <http://brescia.uwo.ca/academics/registrar-services/> or the list of official sessional dates in the Academic Calendar, see the Sessional Dates tab at <http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/index.cfm?SelectedCalendar=Live&ArchiveID=>). You should consult with the course instructor and the Academic Advisor who can help you consider alternatives to dropping one or more courses. Note that dropping a course may affect OSAP eligibility and/or Entrance Scholarship eligibility.

3. ABSENCES

Short Absences: If you miss a class due to a minor illness or other problems, check your course outline for information regarding attendance requirements and make sure you are not missing a test or assignment. Cover any readings and arrange to borrow notes from a classmate. Contact the course instructor if you have any questions.

Extended Absences: If you have an extended absence, you should contact the course instructor and an Academic Advisor. Your course instructor and Academic Advisor can discuss ways for you to catch up on missed work and arrange academic accommodations, if appropriate and warranted.

It is important to note that the Academic Dean may refuse permission to write the final examination in a course if the student has failed to maintain satisfactory academic standing throughout the year or for too frequent absence from the class or laboratory

(http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/PolicyPages.cfm?Command=showCategory&PolicyCategoryID=5&SelectedCalendar=Live&ArchiveID=#SubHeading_68).

4. SCHOLASTIC OFFENCES

Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, at:

http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/PolicyPages.cfm?Command=showCategory&PolicyCategoryID=1&SelectedCalendar=Live&ArchiveID=#Page_20 .

Students are responsible for understanding the nature of and avoiding the occurrence of plagiarism and other academic offences. Note that such offences include plagiarism, cheating on an examination, submitting false or fraudulent assignments or credentials, impersonating a candidate, or submitting for credit in any course without the knowledge and approval of the instructor to whom it is submitted, any academic work for which credit has previously been obtained or is being sought in another course in the University or elsewhere. Students are advised to consult the section on Scholastic Discipline for Undergraduate Students in the Academic Calendar.

If you are in doubt about whether what you are doing is inappropriate or not, consult your instructor, the Academic Dean's Office, or the Registrar. A claim that "you didn't know it was wrong" is not accepted as an excuse.

The penalties for a student guilty of a scholastic offence (including plagiarism) include refusal of a passing grade in the assignment, refusal of a passing grade in the course, suspension from the University, and expulsion from the University.

Plagiarism:

Students must write their essays and assignments in their own words. Whenever students take an idea or a passage from another author, they must acknowledge their debt both by using quotation marks where appropriate and by proper referencing such as footnotes or citations. Plagiarism is a major academic offence.

All required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for the detection of plagiarism. All papers submitted for such checking will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system. Use of the service is subject to the licensing agreement, currently between The University of Western Ontario and Turnitin.com (<http://www.turnitin.com>).

Computer-marked Tests/exams:

Computer-marked multiple-choice tests and/or exams may be subject to submission for similarity review by software that will check for unusual coincidences in answer patterns that may indicate cheating. Software currently in use to score computer-marked multiple-choice tests and exams performs a similarity review as part of standard exam analysis.

5. PROCEDURES FOR APPEALING ACADEMIC EVALUATIONS

All appeals of a grade must be directed first to the course instructor. If the student is not satisfied with the decision of the course instructor, a written appeal is to be sent to the School Chair. If the response of the Chair is considered unsatisfactory to the student, she may then submit a written appeal to the Office of the Dean. If the student is not satisfied with the decision of the Dean, she may appeal to the Senate Review Board Academic (SRBA), if there are sufficient grounds for the appeal. For information on academic appeals you can consult your Academic Advisor or see the Student Academic Appeals – Undergraduate in the Academic Calendar

http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/PolicyPages.cfm?Command=showCategory&PolicyCategoryID=1&SelectedCalendar=Live&ArchiveID=#Page_14.

Note that final course marks are not official until the Academic Dean has reviewed and signed the final grade report for the course. If course marks deviate from acceptable and appropriate standards, the Academic Dean may require grades to be adjusted to align them with accepted grading practices.

6. PREREQUISITES

Unless you have either the prerequisites for a course or written special permission from the Dean to enroll in it, you will be removed from the course and it will be deleted from your record. This decision may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course for failing to have the necessary prerequisite(s).
